McManis Faulkner, a leading Northern California trial firm, has represented clients in family law matters for more than 40 years. The firm’s Family Law Practice is highly regarded for its ability to resolve family legal issues with discretion and sensitivity, in addition to expertise. The practice regularly achieves successful outcomes for clients in matters such as marital and domestic partnership dissolutions, separation disputes, child custody, and “move away” and abduction issues (domestic and international).

McManis Faulkner combines a supporting, caring approach with strong, seasoned representation to create successful outcomes for all involved parties. The client benefits from the knowledge and experience of a team of lawyers, rather than a single attorney.

Complementing the Family Law Practice are the firm’s civil and business trial lawyers. The result is a powerful combination of family law sensibilities, business acumen, and courtroom trial experience.

CALLING ALL INNOVATORS

Has your organization built a better mouse trap? Figured out a cheaper way to patent it? Or maybe streamlined the way you bill for it?

The Recorder is seeking nominations for its second annual Innovators Awards.

This year, we will honor the serial innovators — the idea people — who have a track record of coming up with brilliant and effective improvements in the delivery of legal services.

We will also honor the incubators — the institutions — that can point to a storied (and continuing) history of fostering innovation.

Finally we will honor the ideas — the innovations — that have come to light in the last year.

We are looking to recognize innovation throughout the legal industry—in legal departments, small and large law firms, law schools, legal nonprofits, government, and legal tech/startups. To qualify, the individuals and institutions must be located in California; ideas must have come from California-based individuals or institutions.

TIMELINE:

NOMINATIONS CLOSE: SEPTEMBER 4

WINNERS ANNOUNCED: OCTOBER 9 | AWARDS RECEPTION: DECEMBER 8
