

IN-HOUSE CORPORATE COUNSEL SUMMIT

Sample comments from In-House Counsel who attended the Daily Business Review's Corporate Counsel Summits on March 24 and September 16, 2011.

59 In-House Counsels were present.

"Excellent value plus 8 CLE credits, breakfast + lunch, and interesting presentations. I look forward to next year."

"This Summit was surprisingly informative!"

"Excellent seminar, great speakers and material, etc."

"I expected to need caffeine to get through this but every speaker was exceptional. The topics were interesting and well presented! This seminar was very useful for me as an in-house counsel. Thank you for such a professional summit. Well done!"

"It was a great experience, it shed light on areas that are important and gave a fresh outlook and updates on those."

"The Worker's Compensation presentation was excellent!"

"All sessions and information provided were very useful. The entire summit was very well organized."

"Great opportunity to learn about new trends and issues to best serve your company."

"The in-depth information made available first hand from professionals in their respective fields is extremely beneficial. The speakers offer their 'been there, done that' and explain what to avoid and give advice towards the purpose of improving your individual practice in the legal field."

"Fabulous as always!"

97% of attendees are likely to contact or refer a colleague to one or more of the speakers based on the knowledge presented at an event.

Topics that the in-house counsels would like to see presented at future summits:

- Labor and Employment/Tax speakers
- Internet/Cloud Computing implications
- E-discovery
- Alternative fee arrangements
- Corporate Compliance issues
- Employee issues
- Real Estate Development and Disputes
- Environmental Compliance
- Managing Outside Counsel
- Antitrust

Was the networking lunch with other in-house corporate counsel and presenters of value to you?

"Met several people who will be good contacts."

"Networking always valuable and in-house counsel don't get to do it enough!"

"Great opportunity to meet others in different industries and discuss various legal issues."
