White Collar Criminal Defense • Trials and Appeals • International Criminal Defense

Maloy Jenkins Parker is by design and experience particularly well suited to offer individual or corporate representation in criminal investigations and prosecutions. As a small firm taking on large cases, Maloy Jenkins Parker has developed the ability to supervise investigators, forensic accountants, and other litigation professionals in ways that guarantee excellent service while working efficiently. The partners understand in today's economy the need to coordinate their efforts with in-house counsel.

The lawyers at Maloy Jenkins Parker have the expertise to know what a good result for a client looks like and the skills and experience to achieve it. The three partners have extensive reputations in the legal and judicial communities that have been built over 100 years of experience litigating complex and difficult cases in a wide range of criminal investigations and prosecutions in numerous jurisdictions. Because of their extensive trial experience, backed by an ability to provide superior appellate representation when necessary, each partner is empowered with the ability to obtain resolutions during the investigative stages, as well as secure superior results where charges are brought but resolved without a jury trial.
